

ADB seeking Expressions of Interest for TVET project in Guangxi

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) is currently seeking expressions of interest (EIO) for consultants to help improve the capacity and effectiveness of social services focussed technical and vocational education training (TVET) in Nanning, Guangxi Province.

Brief introduction of Project

The proposed project will help improve the capacity and effectiveness of social services focused technical and vocational education and training (TVET) in Nanning. It will support improvement of No. 4 Vocational Secondary School and Nanning Health School, thereby creating a cadre of qualified kindergarten teachers and nurses to address current skilled worker shortages and inadequate extension of social services. The proposed project will be only the second Asian Development Bank (ADB)-financed TVET investment project in the People's Republic of China, and will play a demonstration role for the sector and provinces seeking to provide quality public social services.

Requirements for UK providers

ADB will select and engage an international firm based on the quality of the proposal (80%) and the cost (20%) of the services to be provided. A total of 54 person-months of consulting services (18 international and 36 national) are required. The firm will provide expertise in TVET, labor market analysis, competency-based curriculum, services-school collaboration, training of instructors, management of TVET, finance and economics, engineering, poverty and social assessment and development, resettlement, environment, institutional development, and project management.
