Estimating the Value to the UK of Education Exports June 2011, BIS Research Paper 46, London Economics

Education Industrial Strategy – Supporting Growth and Influence

- Enabling UK providers to realise the potential export opportunities
- 'Soft Power'
- 'Join up and scale up'
- Promotion of the whole of UK Education's offer
- 'System to System' approach
- New delivery methods

'System-to-system'

 The 'system-to-system' approach seeks to maximise UK opportunity by offering the target country a package of education products and services, delivered by multiple providers working together.

System-to-system offer

- Relevant curriculum leading to internationally respected qualifications
- Development of practical hands-on training
- Teacher/lecturer training including specialist content
- Teaching resources
- Capacity-building
- Establishment of one or several specialist academic and/or technical departments
- Establishment of specialist public or commercial expertise/facilities

Education Exports – Some Examples

- English language programmes, inc teacher training Sussex Downs College
- Teacher training appropriate to local curriculum and culture – University of Huddersfield
- National skills college Warwickshire College
- Capacity development to teach and assess competencybased vocational qualifications – Westminster Kingsway College
- Joint delivery of qualifications Glasgow, Loughborough and Sheffield Hallam Univs

Education Exports – Some Examples 2

SERVICES FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION MARKETING

CONFERENCE 2012

Daniel Waller

Senior lecturer in ELT, Testing and TESOL University of Central Lancashire

Sponsored by

The School of Languages, Literature & International Studies, UCLan

- 2003 Approached to provide a language test
- 2003 6 Design and pilots
- 2006 First large-scale tests (5,000+ candidates)
- 2012 18 20,000 candidates annually

 Provide tests under our own banner (University of Central Lancashire Examination Board) but also write for other organisations

Why do it?

- Provision of an additional income stream
 - Helps to support other projects and courses in the School
- Develop a reputation for expertise in a particular field
- Enhances the reputation of the institution internally & externally
- Generates research and funding
 - Link between knowledge transfer (KT) and research
 - Generates data for other fields of research
 - Practical 'hands on' experience of staff (and students)
 - Attracts postgraduate students
 - Promotes collaboration with other national & international institutions

Challenges & Responses

- Internal
 - University culture, systems and processes
 - Financial models
 - Time
 - Expertise (in the area & management)
- External
 - Competitors
 - Regulating bodies (e.g. UKBA and Ofqual)
 - Unfamiliar environments
