

2020 UK-China-BRI (Vietnam/Indonesia) Education Partnership Initiative Call Guidelines (for UK applicants)

Call opens: 13 November 2020

Call closes: 11 December 2020

I. Introduction

Building on the success of the UK-China-BRI Countries¹ Education Partnership Initiative (hereinafter referred to as “the Initiative”) for the past two years, the British Council will continue to fund multi-lateral higher education links in 2020 between the UK, China and BRI countries, with priority focus on Vietnam and Indonesia. The thematic priority is improving the quality of student experience through digital learning.

Seed-funding of around £65,000 will be provided to institutions from the UK to partner with China and Vietnam and/or Indonesia for projects that would strengthen online teaching and learning, improve student experiences, and boost education internationalisation of the countries involved.

Funding will be focussed on higher education projects that aim to:

1. Improve student experience
2. strengthen online teaching and learning
3. support the internationalisation of higher education.

Examples of areas that projects may focus on:

- joint curriculum development
- creating an enabling environment for transnational education collaborations (e.g. regulatory and policy environment, quality assurance, student experience, academic development, teaching quality and learning etc)
- student exchange virtual projects
- leadership training and professional development
- digital learning

II. Strategic Objectives

The key objectives of the Initiative are to boost:

- a) student experience and mobility
- b) academic communications and exchanges
- c) leadership skills development
- d) teaching excellence via digital / blended delivery
- e) research collaborations

III. Funding Amount

Funding of around £65,000 will be awarded for each project covering the whole project duration. Projects in receipt of funding will be expected to start in April 2021 and can run for a maximum of five years (until March 2026). The funding is for the duration of the project and not per annum.

¹ For BRI countries, please check below link for the full list and profiles:

Ministry of Education from China, Vietnam and Indonesia will support local partner institutions to join the partnership, but may not provide funding.

IV. Assessment Criteria

Projects must lead to at least one of the following outcomes:

- Increase collaboration among institutions in the UK, China and BRI (Vietnam/Indonesia) by nurturing strategic and sustainable partnerships. (Examples: training hubs, joint curriculum design, joint centres for the development and research of priority subject areas, etc.)
- Increase opportunities for students, academics and early career researchers from the UK, China and BRI (Vietnam/Indonesia) to engage with each other and gain international skills and experience. (Examples: collaborative student projects, academic exchange projects to boost teaching and learning experience, early career researchers' workshops and discussions leading to specific research ideas and additional funding)

Projects must be able to demonstrate all of the following impacts:

- Creation of measurable and tangible impacts in the short term (within 1 year), in the medium term (1 - 3 years), and in the long term (3 years and beyond);
- Creation of real value to the UK, China and BRI countries with evidence-based results, such as economic returns, increased numbers of international students, enhanced employability, greater international influence, etc.
- Creation of benefits that apply to the wider higher education sector, such as by sharing international best practice.

Priority considerations will therefore be given to projects that demonstrate:

- significant growth potential for the UK, China and BRI countries, such as skills development and job creations
- access to other sources of funding, including in-kind contributions that support the delivery of project outputs, such as fixed assets and staff, industry support;
- innovative services and/or products;
- sustainability beyond the project period

V. Operational Requirements

Proposals must meet the following operational requirements:

Value for money:

Projects must achieve the best possible outcomes with the funding and resources available, while ensuring funding and resources are used effectively, economically and without waste.

Deliverability:

Proposals must incorporate a credible delivery plan with realistic milestones for progressing the different elements of the project to completion on time and within budget. This will require a team with relevant skills and experience.

Affordability and sustainability:

Project proposals must be affordable in relation to the overall funding available and be financially sustainable with benefits that can endure beyond the funding period.

Partnership:

All project proposals must include minimum of at least 1 UK institution, 1 Chinese institution and 1 institution from Vietnam and / or Indonesia. In addition, project proposal must have signed off from the most senior leader of each of the partner institutions. (i.e. Vice Chancellor, College Principals, President)

Monitoring and evaluation plan:

Projects must have a clear monitoring and evaluation plan. The plan should explain what the key performance indicators are and how monitoring will be carried out. Tangible milestones should be set, with an explanation as to how they will be measured. A risk management plan should also be included.

VI. Assessment Process

Project proposals will be assessed based on the information provided in the application form. Shortlisted applicants may be contacted for further information about their proposals. A final decision will be made by the Project Board, which will consist of representatives from the British Council, China Ministry of Education, and Education institutions and organizations in the UK and China.

Proposals will be assessed as follows:

- Alignment with strategic objectives (30 per cent)
 - Proposals must show a clear understanding of and fully address the strategic objectives.
 - Proposals must demonstrate the ability to generate outcomes that are of benefit to the wider public.
 - Proposals must explain clearly what kind of opportunities they will create for individuals in the UK, China, and BRI countries, and how this will be achieved.

- Potential to deliver target outcomes and impacts (40 per cent)
 - Proposals must clearly explain what the project will achieve and how this will contribute to creating opportunities for individuals and/or increasing collaboration between the UK, China and BRI countries.
 - Proposals must propose a realistic action plan to achieve the target outcomes, with defined impacts that can be monitored and evaluated.
 - Proposals must demonstrate measurable, tangible and sustainable impacts that bring value and benefits to the UK, China and BRI countries as well as the education sector. Projects that principally benefit one institution will not be considered.
 - Priority will be given to projects that demonstrate significant growth potential for the UK, China and BRI countries, innovative services and/or products, access to other sources of funding, and partnerships with Chinese & BRI organisations.

- Capacity to deliver on time and within budget (30 per cent)
 - Projects must be led by a team with the skills and experience necessary to successfully deliver the proposed work.
 - Proposals must have a clear budget plan that can be realistically executed.
 - Proposals must fully address the operational requirements.

After the results are announced, the British Council will sign agreements with the successful applicants. Funding will be administered after the agreements are signed and all funded applicants must submit a declaration confirming they have received the funds.
