Event briefing:

The British Council has operated in Vietnam since 1993. Since then, we have cooperated closely with the Ministry of Education and Training (MOET) and the National Foreign Languages Project (NFLP) on a wide variety of projects and programmes to improve the standard of English language teaching, learning and assessment in state primary and secondary schools, universities and vocational training institutions throughout the country.

English Language Teaching (ELT) development in support of NFLP's 2025 Strategy has always been a priority area for the British Council. NFLP and the British Council in Viet Nam continually seek ways to develop cooperation in the areas of English language teaching, learning and assessment and this is evident in the activities proposed in the Collaboration Plan 2021-2022 with a vision for cooperation until 2024-2025, including (i) research and insight, (ii) engaging with stakeholders in both Viet Nam and the UK, (iii) capacity building and continuing professional development, and (iv) curriculum, resources and assessment.

Through this strategic collaboration, the British Council will seek to partner with representatives from both the UK and VN ELT sectors to identify, pursue and implement various large-scale activities related to reforming English in formal education and enhancing English Medium Education that supports NFLP's priority to improve the quality of foreign language teaching and learning, where UK ELT sector expertise and experience is well placed to offer support.

The British Council is now inviting applications for innovative and collaborative approaches to explore a more inclusive and accessible approach to the provision of English language teaching and learning in Viet Nam post Covid-19. This launch event will introduce upcoming consultancy opportunities for representatives from both the UK and VN ELT sectors to partner for ELT development in Viet Nam's education system.
